QUANDO-QUANDO

His career in sport and breeding has been exemplary, beginning in 1995 as a top colt at the Vechta auction, continuing to become the Premium Class 1 winner at the stallion approval and the undisputed winner at the stallion performance test with the highest possible score of 10 for character and willingness to perform, a score of 9.5 for rideability and a score of 9 for temperament, walk, trot and canter. Exceptional!

Quando-Quando's highlights in sport have been participation in the Bundeschampionat finals for 5 and 6 year old dressage horses, 5th place at the World Championships in the class for 6 year old dressage horses as well as 5th place at the Nürnberg Burgpokal 2003, prior to which he won the VTV Dressage Stallion of the Year Award. With first places in international Grand Prix in 2004 and winning World Cup B finals in Dortmund, he was then nominated for the Olympic Games in Athens. His offspring are very popular because of their modern, noble looks, outstanding rideability and strong movements and they also have the good jumping ability his pedigree promises.

QUATTRO

Quattro is a son of the Selle Francais stallion Qredo de Paulstra, winner of the Grand Prix of Bordeaux. Qredo is sired by the legendary Galoubet, which two times won World Cup Qualifiers and produced international jumpers such as Quick Star and Quatoubet de Rouet. Grandfather Almé is even more famous with his offspring Jalisco B. and I Love You. At the other side of Qredo we find Furioso xx; father of Lutteur (Gold Medallist Tokio) and Le Tyroll; father of Rocket of Janou Lefebvre. Quattro himself is out of the famous line of Kermesse.

Quattro's bloodlines speak of great jumpers, yet also super movers with power and suspension. Quattro, himself, excelled in dressage, yet showed much talent over fences, competing at World Cup level with success. And well he should, being by Qredo de Paulstro.

That sire line goes back to French blood through Galoubet – Alme' Z – Ibrahim, Furioso xx.

Quattro

As a young horse Quattro was 2nd in the Performance Test at Medingen with a high score of 130 points. And in 1994 he was Reserve Champion of the Oldenburg Körung, based on his performance test and his first offspring. Quattro jumped very well in 1996 with his rider Gilbert Böckmann and they won more than 20 1.30m courses through the summer. Meanwhile Quattro jumps at the international circuit successfully, including second in the Grand Prix of Emsbüren, Kiel and Bremen. He was also successful in Caen, Leeuwarden, Berlin, Munich and Geneva. His first offspring show spectacular gaits but they also inherited Quattro's beautiful type and free jump very well. Since 1997 Quattro has more than 10 approved sons; Quando Quando, Quantes, Quatier Latin, Quell Charmeur, etc. Quattro's offspring Quando Quando, Much Ado and Quantum Tyme are famous in Grand Prix dressage. Quattro remarkably had two children qualified for the Olympics in Athens 2004; Quando Quando for dressage and Oliver Q for jumping! Quicksilber won the gold medal at Lanaken in 2005 with the Spanish rider Manuel Fernandez Saro and Suzie Quattro with Luciana Diniz and Quanta Costa from Rolf-Göran Bengtsson both jumped successfully in 2005.

Quattro

GALOUBET A

Galoubet was one of the first showjumping stallions to compete at the very top level. Ridden by Gilles-Bertrand de Ballanda, he was French National Champion on three occasions, he won amongst others the Grand Prix of Wiesbaden in 1979, was 8th in the World Cup Final in 1980 and topped it all by finishing 5th individually and winning team gold at the World Championships in Dublin in 1982. Galoubet has produced a large number of international GP winners including 'Baloubet du Rouet' (Rodrigo Pessoa) Olympic Individual gold medalist and three time in a row World Cup Final winner '98,

'99, '2000 and now a leading sire, 'Taloubet Z' (Christian Ahlmann) World Cup Final winner 2011, 'Quick Star' (Merideth Michaels-Beerbaum) GP winner at Munich and Maastricht, now a leading sire, 'Touchdown' (James Kernan) Olympic competitor and sire of Dermot Lennons world champion mare 'Liscalgot' and 'Skippy' (Rick Hemeryck) etc.

Galoubet is himself regarded as a sire of sires and is responsible through his sons for a very significant branch of the currently active Alme dynasty with the likes of 'Big Star' (Nick Skelton), 'Chaman' (Ludger Beerbaum), 'Castlefield Eclipse' (Paul Esterman), 'Bodego' (Alvaro de Miranda Neto) and 'Cylana' (Reed Kessler) amongst many others. He has also proven a good sire of broodmares.

"FLEMMINGH"

A world renowned stallion, Flemmingh carries all of the great Holstein jumping names on his pedigree. His breeding combines the blood of the famous Selles Francais "Cor de la Bryere" with the Holsteiner "Farnese", plus a double dose of Thoroughbred via the very influential "Ladykiller" xx.

Flemmingh

Flemmingh has been given "Preferent" status by the KWPN. This is the highest rating that a stallion can receive in Holland, indicating the highest quality and contribution to Dutch breeding. He is the father of many Grand Prix Dressage competitors and Grand Prix showjumpers such as Krack C shown by Anky Van Grunsven. His offspring are obviously world class. Flemmingh's offspring are big moving, tall, athletic, and long lined horses with 3 excellent gaits and an outstanding temperament. He's known for passing on the knee action that makes his movement so appealing as well as the wonderful temperament. The foals of Flemmingh are very much in demand by riders, trainers and dealers because they are very eager learners, like to work and move easily. He is highly regarded for his versatility with many offspring performing with great success in top level showjumping sport.

GRANNUS

1972 16.2 hh black Hanoverian stallion. Seven Olympic horses and more than 60 approved stallions have made Grannus one of the greatest sires in the world.

Grannus

Grannus himself was a successful show jumper up to Advanced level. When he was eight years old, Grannus won all three jumping competitions at the DLG, and in 1982, he and Guido Klatte took third place at the German Championships for juniors in Bad Segeberg. In 1992, Grannus joined the elite group of sires whose offspring took part in the Olympic Games. Three of his sons competed in Barcelona: Imperial, Governor and Top Gun, who with Jan Tops, helped secure the Dutch team's gold medal. Two of Grannus' sons made an appearance in the Olympics at Atlanta: Top Gun for his second Olympic Games and Gaston, the winner of the 1989 German Championships in the class for six year olds, ridden for Italy by Valerio Sozzi. In the Sydney Olympic games, Grannus' sons Gismo, Spain's entry ridden by Ricardo Jurado, and the enormous Remus Equo, ridden by Anton Martin Bauer for Austria, competed successfully.
